Belgiums: Letters of very recent date have been received in New York from Antwerp, via Havre. They represent the situation of trade there, as truly distressing. The King of Holiand persevered in mis differentiation but to allow the ingress or egressof vessels, and in considerance all business was at a stand. In a place so eminently commercial as Antwerp, the fessosting effect of such a situation may be easily imagined. Of the numerous vessels bound this her, which had been waiting a favourable change, some had unloaded at Flushing, others and proceeded to Helvoest-lays, and pience to had princeeded to Helvoestsluys, and thence to torrendam for the purpose of distrarging a
